

PRESIDENT ON REUNITED NATION

Mr. Roosevelt Speaks at Dedication of Rough Riders' Monument in Arlington.

UNDER LEE AND WHEELER

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12.—President Roosevelt made a speech, in which he touched mainly on patriotism and good citizenship at the dedication to-day of the monument erected to the memory of the First Cavalry, United States Volunteers—the Rough Riders—in the Spanish-American War in the National Cemetery at Arlington. Mrs. A. K. Capron, the widow of Captain Capron, of the Rough Rider Regiment, who fell at Las Guasimas, pulled the cord holding the American flag that covered the monument. Rev. Dr. J. Stafford, of St. Patrick's Church, this city, made the dedication address, and Chaplain H. A. Brown, U. S. A., pronounced the benediction.

Regular troops and part of the National Guard of the District of Columbia participated in the exercises incident to the dedication. They included four troops of the Thirtieth Cavalry, a battalion of field artillery, four companies of the District National Guard and a portion of the District Cavalry Reserve.

The President, accompanied from the White House by Lieutenant-General Young, retired, and Major Frank B. McCoy, his naval aide, were met at Fort Meyer by Captain Preston's troop of the Thirtieth Cavalry and escorted to the cemetery gates, where they were joined by the remainder of the military and the naval contingent in the march to the monument. A distinguished company assembled on the stand, from which the President delivered his address.

A number of former members of the Rough Riders' Regiment are in the city, and were invited to seats on the stand.

Monolith from Vermont.

The monument is the design of Mrs. Capron, and stands in a good location in the reservation. It is a monolith, the largest of its kind in Arlington. It is made of Vermont granite, stands fourteen feet high on a base six by six feet. The memorial bears the names of more than one hundred former members of the regiment who died either in Cuba or after the return of the regiment to the United States.

The main decoration is a bronze tablet bearing the regimental device, the crossed sabres, and a medallion with the names of the three battles in which the organization participated—Guasimas, San Juan and Santiago. Beneath the device is the inscription:

"First United States Volunteer Cavalry. In memory of the deceased members of the First United States Volunteer Cavalry, Spanish-American War. Erected by members of the regiment, 1906."

Above the tablet, in raised letters, are the words, "Rough Riders." President Roosevelt was the colonel of the Rough Riders during most of its existence, and he spoke to-day with a personal feeling. He referred to the peculiar gratification of all the members of the regiment in seeing this memorial erected to the memory of their dead comrades, and spoke of the funeral services that Chaplain Brown held over those killed in the Guasimas fight. "The first fight that we saw; the first in which we served under the after-time lieutenant-general of the United States Army, who is with us here to-day—General Young."

General Young had promised that if the regiment got into his brigade he would see that it got into the first fight, and said the President, turning to General Young, "You kept your word."

The President said the paramount reason why our people should look back to the Spanish-American War with pride and satisfaction was that it marked in very truth the complete reunion of our country. "He said sons of men who had worn the blue and the sons of those who had worn the gray fought together and side by side with Young and Shafter and Lawton, and had served under Wheeler and Fitzhugh Lee; they 'stood shoulder to shoulder, knitted together by the closest of ties and acknowledged with respect to one another only that generous jealousy each to try to be first to do all that in him lay for the honor and the interest of the flag that covered the reunited country.'"

"I'll have to think it over," Mr. Bryan remarked, laughingly.

CHILDREN GREET BRYAN.

They and Citizens of Radford Hear Him Speak.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—William Jennings Bryan was greeted by a large crowd of schoolchildren and citizens when his train pulled into the East Radford station at noon to-day. He greeted the people cordially, and after shaking hands with many, made a brief speech from the platform in which he expressed pleasure at returning to a town where he had been so pleasantly entertained last fall, and where his son and daughter were so delightfully entertained at Easter.

In discussing national affairs, he said that the President had adopted Democratic policies, advocating an income tax, and other measures which the Democrats had been advocating for years. He said that the President claimed that five millions were to be raised to defeat the election of his successor, and that it had taken thirteen millions to defeat him—Bryan.

Ex-Governor Tyler joined Mr. Bryan and accompanied him to Roanoke.

NOMINATE BRYAN.

Hendricks Club Turns Graves' Suggestion Clear Around.

EVANSVILLE, IND., April 12.—The Hendricks Club, the largest Democratic organization in the State, while celebrating the birthday of Thomas Jefferson to-night, adopted the following resolution and telegraphed to John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, Ga.:

"The Hendricks Club, of Evansville, believes that in the interest of a 'square deal,' Roosevelt should nominate Bryan for President in 1908, as there is now no doubt that Bryan was beaten in 1896 by the contribution of money from insurance companies, railroad companies and tariff-protected monopolies, and that President Roosevelt knows this to be a fact, and that Bryan in 1896 stood on the platform on which Roosevelt now stands on railroad regulation."

OPPOSES SECOND TERM.

Could Not Conscientiously Nominate Mr. Roosevelt.

ROANOKE, VA., April 12.—William Jennings Bryan, in an interview to-day, was asked for an expression on the suggestion made by John Temple Graves, of Atlanta, at the banquet on Wednesday night at Chattanooga, Tenn., that Mr. Bryan nominate Roosevelt for President. Mr. Bryan said: "I said at the banquet in Chattanooga all that at present I can say. I then said: 'As at present advised, I cannot see that it is my duty to nominate Mr. Roosevelt.' In both of my campaigns I stated that I would not be a candidate for a second term, if elected, and as I have endeavored to secure a constitutional amendment making a President ineligible for a second term, I could not conscientiously urge the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt for a second term, even if there were no other reasons."

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Mr. Robert M. Powell Paralyzed While Walking Along Street.

PLAN FOR NEW CITY HALL

Assembly Resolution to appropriate $15,000 Referred to Committee.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 102 Hull Street.

Paralyzed while walking along Sixth Street near the Southern Shops, yesterday morning, Mr. Robert M. Powell, sixty-three years of age, was found unconscious in the street about noon and was at once taken to the home of his son, Mr. Curtis M. Powell, No. 511 West Tenth Street, where he died at 5 o'clock. He regained consciousness and remained in this state for an hour or more, but could not speak to those around him.

Mr. Powell left his son's home early in the morning and was noticed by his nephew, Mr. A. L. Powell, about 7:30 o'clock. No more was seen of him until he was found in the street, that he was unconscious on Sixth Street, where he had fallen. Mrs. John W. Broadnax and E. G. Hill were summoned and did what they could, but to no avail.

Mr. Powell was a gallant Confederate soldier, serving all four years in the cause of the South. He was a member of Joseph E. Johnston Camp, Confederate Veterans of Manchester, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. His children are Mr. Curtis M. Powell and Mrs. W. B. Browning. Mrs. Cora Tinsley and Mrs. Rosa Sherman. He has one brother living at Hickson, Tenn.

The funeral will take place from home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in Maury Cemetery.

New City Hall.

A resolution directing the appropriation of $15,000 for the erection of a new City Hall was referred to the Finance Committee by the City Assembly at its regular meeting last night. Mr. L. R. Brown, member of the body from the First Ward, introduced the resolution which originally called for $10,000 for the new building. Mr. C. C. Jones, of the Second Ward, the same ward, and who is soon to leave the city, offered the amendment increasing the amount $5,000. Though no report was made by members of the Buildings and Land Committee, who have made a cursory examination of the condition of the present City Hall, it was the general belief of all that the structure was no longer suitable, and was in fact unsafe for the members of the Council to remain in. The Fire Department, City Treasurer, City Collector, Auditor and Commissioner of Public Works all have quarters in the old building at Tenth and Hull Streets, just a few feet from the courthouse building.

The City Hall would mean the expenditure of almost as much money as the erection of a new building would demand. The saving to the city by bringing the Mayor's office to the new building would be $5,000. The new building would be more than pay the interest on the money borrowed for the erection of the building.

O. L. Godwin Elected.

Mr. O. L. Godwin was elected by the Assembly as a member of the Third Ward, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Assemblyman C. C. Cox. Mr. Lindsay nominated Mr. Godwin, and no other names were placed before the Assembly. The new member is a stranger to the majority in the Assembly, but one or two of those in the chamber last night having a personal acquaintance with him. He is a property-holder, and lives near the corner of Thirteenth and Decatur Streets. Mr. Godwin will qualify next week, and will be given a seat on several of the committees upon which the late Mr. Cox served.

Resignation Tendered.

Assemblyman C. C. Jones, of the First Ward, who, since his advent into municipal politics, has been one of the most active and untiring workers in the Council, tendered his resignation to-day, his reason being that he was shortly to leave the city, having been promoted to the position of trainmaster of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad at Jacksonville, Fla. He was general yardmaster for the road here.

The resignation of Mr. Jones was not accepted last night, for the reason that he is a member of several committees which will probably meet early next week, and which will require his attention. Messrs. Adkins, Tolson, Nunnally and Bradley paid the very highest tribute to Mr. Jones. Each praised his work in the Assembly, and expressed regret that the city was to lose him as a citizen and as an official. His resignation was tabled until the next session, when his name has already been mentioned for the position, which will be vacant as soon as Mr. Jones leaves the city.

Grade School Lots.

The ordinance appropriating $2,000 for the purpose of grading the lots at Eleventh and Bainbridge Streets, upon which the new High School is to be erected, was passed. Mr. Charles L. Page, City Attorney, explained that the School Board had succeeded in borrowing $15,000, an act authorized by the Council, at five per cent. interest, payable semi-annually. Under the statute one-third of the principal of the money borrowed had to be set aside each year as sinking fund. The Legislature, in passing this act, overlooked the fact that the sinking fund amount would grow year to year by drawing interest compounded.

New Ordinances.

An ordinance of considerable interest to the citizens as well as to the Councilmen, in view of the discussion some time ago of the number of Fire Commissioners, was offered by President J. D. Roams. It amends the ordinance so as to provide that the number of Fire Commissioners shall be five. It has been impossible to get a quorum of the commissioners together, and as a result many bills have been from month to month delayed in payment. Only last night the Council held the sixteen members of the Fire Commission to have a quorum.

Mr. D. L. Toney offered an ordinance to make it a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25, for any person to have in his possession any scales, steelyards, etc., that did not weigh correctly. It was referred to the committee. There is a statute at this time which practically covers this case. Mr. Toney withdrew a resolution to have the Board of Aldermen, through its clerk, send a message to the Assembly, after each meeting, telling

Trolley Party to Church.

Rev. C. B. Richard, pastor of the Christian Church in Petersburg, brought a trolley car loaded with members of his congregation to the city last night, and all attended the service in the Christian Church. The church was crowded to the doors and a great deal of interest was manifested. There were three confessions by young men. Rev. C. B. Richard, of Cresco, Va., is preaching each night. The services will continue through next week. The subjects for Sunday are: 1. The Master. 2. The Master. At night—"Paul, Before Arriving."

Mr. Elmer, wife of the minister who is preaching, arrived yesterday, and with her husband, is the guest of Rev. C. B. Richard, pastor of the church. There will be a service for young men in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The subject will be "The Question of Wages."

Remain Another Week.

In the Bridge Street Baptist Church last night a large congregation heard the sermon by Rev. Dr. Porter. It was decided to continue the revival service through the next week. Dr. Porter will return Monday and preach each day. It was also announced, to the great delight of all those who have enjoyed his regular preaching, that he will also remain another week. She is the guest of Mrs. E. N. Gregory.

Moody Residence Sold.

Augustine Royall & Company have sold the Moody property, at Fifteenth and Porter Streets, to Mr. Thomas M. Heathman, of Chesterfield county, for $5,000. The property was one of the handiest brick structures in the city, and was built by the late Mr. Moody at a cost much greater than the price brought.

Mr. Moody's declining health is the reason for the sale of the residence.

No Grand Jury.

No grand jury term of the Corporation Court of this city will be held next week, Judge William J. Clapp deciding not to summon any jurors unless something unforeseen happens to warrant such action.

The petit jurors to be summoned by Sergeant Saunders are Henry A. Reid, J. H. Heford, Thomas J. Lott, J. Ashbrook, D. H. Hey, W. F. Winne, R. E. Dalton, Joseph Linton, J. W. Childress.

Raze Landmark.

When the old house, half brick and half frame, at Eleventh and Hull Streets, is torn down to make room for the new post-office building to be erected on the site, one of the landmarks of Manchester will be destroyed. The oldest citizens remember the house. It was built more than a century ago, and was used as a general merchandise store for a number of years.

Personals and Briefs.

Mrs. R. E. Satchfield left the city this week for Newport News, where she will make her home with her sister, Mrs. W. B. Jennings. After a visit to New York, Mrs. Ida B. Lloyd has returned to the city. The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Brown, who died in Chattanooga, Tenn., will take place this afternoon from the home of Mr. Catlett, in Swansboro. Mr. W. P. Brooks, Jr., of Brook Road, Chesterfield county, has announced his candidacy for the office of supervisor for the Manchester district in the county.

UNDULY EXCITED.

Bryan Says Corruption Fund Is Worrying Teddy Too Much.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—BRISTOL, TENN., April 12.—William Jennings Bryan arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning, enroute for Chattanooga, Tenn. He was met by his daughter, Miss Grace Dexter Bryan, who is in school there. Notwithstanding the early hour of his arrival, he was greeted by three hundred people, and from the platform of the train discussed railroad regulation and the relation of the people to the railroads. Speaking of the Harriman-Roosevelt episode, Bryan said in an interview:

"The President seems unduly excited over the alleged $50,000 fund by Wall Street to prevent his re-election. If Wall Street is opposed to any doctrine held by President Roosevelt, it is certainly not a Republican doctrine. When we came up against the corruption fund, the State Department, from American Consul Olivares, dated at Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, to-day."

"Amapala has been surrendered by Bonilla, and the war is ended."

Mr. Carnegie made his appearance at this function, after being absent all day, due, it was stated, from fatigue occasioned by yesterday's ceremonies. The banquet was the most brilliant ever held in the city. The foreign and American guests attended.

The exercises to-day were slightly handicapped by inclement weather. Three large chests of books were presented to the institute by Emperor William, through his personal representative, Lieutenant Alfred F. J. L. von Lowenfeld. The books are handsomely bound, and treat of the German empire and army.

Many messages were received to-day from all parts of the world, congratulating Mr. Carnegie and Pittsburgh in possessing the great institute.

Among the speakers to-day were Sir William H. Preece, London; Ernst von Hahn, Berlin; Sir Robert S. Ball, London; the Hon. Sir John Lubbock, London; and the Hon. Sir John Lubbock, London.
